

Herb – Borage White

Latin Name

Borago officinalis 'Alba'

Pack Size

Approx. 60 Seeds

Herb Borage White is a large and leafy annual that produces the most unique leaves and cymes of creamy white. Flowering from late spring and into summer, this annual herb is a perfect pick for growing in any kitchen garden, allotment, or windowsill.

Sow Indoors
 March-April

Sow Outdoors
 April-July

Flowering Time
 June-September

J	F	M	A	M	J	J	A	S	O	N	D
□	□	■	■	□	□	□	□	□	□	□	□
□	□	□	■	■	■	■	□	□	□	□	□
□	□	□	□	□	■	■	■	■	□	□	□

Sowing Instructions

Sow seed directly in the ground in spring. These seeds can also be sown into seed trays or small pots.

Plant the seedlings outdoors once large enough to handle, often about 5cm tall.

Thin seedlings to 5cm apart in a sunny or partially shaded area.

Days to harvest to maturity

60 days.

Tips

This herb can be grown on the windowsill or equally in the garden for a continuous all year round crop. Harvest flowers for a fancy garnish or salad companion!